

Privacy policy McThemeParks 24-4-2020

Our privacy policy applies during every visit to McThemeParks or use of McThemeParks. By using these services you agree to our terms and conditions, our privacy policy and rules. This is your own responsibility whether or not to read it.

Personal data is processed on the McThemeParks website. McThemeParks will handle this data carefully. Personal data is therefore stored in a safe environment. We take into account the requirements of the Personal Data Protection Act.

General

Your IP address is stored while using our services. We use this to recognize users / players, to solve problems and for administration. This data is not sent to third parties.

Websites

We use analytical cookies on our website. These cookies store the IP address and identification data. We use this information to improve our website. These are forwarded to Google & WordPress.

Functional cookies are used on our websites. These contain a serial number associated with a user. This data is not sent to third parties.

Sessions are used on our websites. These sessions may contain personal information of the user that is necessary for the execution of the service. This data is not sent to third parties.

Skins or avatars can be used on our websites. These are linked to the Minecraft account. This data is sent to MCAPI for showing the skin or avatar.

On our sites you can use our contact form. The data entered in that form will not be sent to third parties.

Webshop

An order can be placed in our webshop. This contains personal data provided by the customer. This information is sent to PayPal for payment.

Minecraft

Your Minecraft account is saved while using our Minecraft servers. We use this information to identify the user. This data is sent to Mojang AB during the authentication process to verify the user. Furthermore, this data is sent to the other people who are online at that time.

While using our Minecraft servers, the chat function can be used. These messages are stored to monitor the server and ensure compliance with the terms and conditions. This data is sent to the other players who are currently online.

Retention of data

McThemeParks will only keep the data collected for as long as it is necessary to achieve the purpose for which they were collected and for a specified period of time is by law. After that, we will use all of the aforementioned information in our possession within a certain period of time.

Amendments

This privacy policy can be changed at any time. Changes that are made will be published on our website.